It is certain that innovation is a key to Japan's sustainable development. Meanwhile, it is said "Women participating actively in society is forming the central core of Growth Policy" in aging society with falling birth rate. In such circumstances, Ochanomizu University takes a role of hub for cooperation between industry, academia and government, and promotes the program aiming at fostering woman innovators in the fields of science and technology, especially in the areas where the representation of women is very low, who will be able to accommodate rapidly changing social needs and keep long-term creativity demanded by society with high flexibility on their academic base of physics, mathematics, and information technology.
